RAPS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Senator Thomas Calls Wall Street a "Gambling Hell."

REFERS TO FINANCIAL PANIC

Colorado Solon Defends Wilson Tariff Bill From Responsibility for Disturbances Which Followed and Accuses Former President Cleveland and New York Banks of Conspiracy to Precipitate Calamity.

Washington, July 16.—Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, in a speech defending the Wilson tariff bill of 1893 from responsibility for the financial panic which followed, charged former President Cleveland and the New York banks with conspiracy to precipitate a calamity to force repeal of the Sherman silver act.

Though denouncing the 1893 bill as "a most miserable pretense of tariff reform," he branded the New York Stock Exchange as the "most prodigious gambling hell of any age" and "the Monte Carlo of American finance."

"It is the swindler's paradise," he continued. "It is a huge vampire that sucks the blood from the arteries of industry. It is an unincorporated, irresponsible monstrosity beyond the pale of the laws. It is the antithesis of fair dealing and common honesty. It has sanctified speculation. It is the most pernicious and corroding influence in the land."

"If disaster, whose coming is now so freely predicted, shall overtake us in the near future, it will be caused not by the enactment of the pending tariff bill, but by the same influences which produced it before. I do not say they will do it. I do not think they will do it. They have no partnership with the administration. That has been dissolved by the people."

Chilton Reads Old Speech. When Senator Thomas concluded Senator Chilton of West Virginia had read from the Record a speech made in the senate by Senator La Follette during the debate on the wool bill in 1911 in which the Wisconsin senator said everybody with any knowledge of the subject knew that the Wilson bill had nothing to do with the panic of 1893.

"I had that read," said Chilton, "because Senator Thomas has dug the grave of this argument. Senator La Follette erected the tombstone and I wanted him represented at the obsequies."

Senator Smoot then took the floor. "There is no doubt in my mind now," he declared, "but what the passage of the Wilson bill was the means of bringing to this country a great deal of the suffering that came to the working people of this country at that time and if conditions were the same now as then I do not doubt that the passage of the present tariff bill will bring the same result."

Senator Williams of Mississippi said the people at last had found out that the Republican argument that the Wilson bill brought on the great panic was a lie.

"It took them a long time to find it out," suggested Senator Warren.

"Yes, because there were liars going about the land preaching this idea," Senator Williams replied. "There never has been in history an organized lie that couldn't make an impression, but now the people know that this argument was an organized lie."

"By what authority does the senator say that?" asked Senator Warren. "By the authority of the last election," said Senator Williams.

ANNOUNCE ROYAL BETROTHAL

Prince Arthur and Princess Alexandra Victoria to Wed.

London, July 16.—The betrothal is announced of Prince Arthur of Connaught and Princess Alexandra Victoria, the duchess of Fife.

Prince Arthur Frederick Patrick Albert is the son of the Duke of Connaught and Strathern, governor general of Canada. He was born Jan. 13, 1883, and has served as personal aide to King Edward VII. and King George V.

Princess Alexandra, duchess of Fife, is the elder daughter of the late Duke of Fife and Princess Louise Victoria, the daughter of King Edward VII. She was born May 17, 1891.

WRECK GUILT ON COMPANY

Coroner's Jury Holds Trolley Officials to Blame.

Los Angeles, July 16.—Blame for the Pacific Electric railway wreck last Sunday night, when fourteen persons were killed and 150 injured in a collision of trains running from Los Angeles to the ocean, was declared by a coroner's jury to rest with the railroad company.

The verdict charged that the trains were operated too closely together, that the cars were overcrowded and that the employees were unacquainted with the traffic rules.

PROBERS MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

Senate Committee Scans 410 Letters and Telegrams.

MULHALL STILL ON STAND

Witness Relates More Political Activities and Strikebreaking Stunts While Acting as Agent for the National Association of Manufacturers—House Committee Also Begins to Look Over Correspondence.

Washington, July 16.—The senate lobby investigating committee made 410 knots over the sea of the Martin M. Mulhall correspondence.

Mulhall was in the witness chair and Senator Reed at the helm of the investigating bark for most of the five hours it was steaming ahead. Mulhall identified 410 letters, telegrams and memoranda put into the record by the committee with only a bit more hesitancy than he evinced before.

Mulhall's attention was directed most exclusively to the last half of the year 1907 and the first part of 1908. He was jumped from Maine to Missouri; from Baltimore to Indianapolis and up to Cleveland in those few months.

He told, or his letters did, of his strikebreaking activities in St. Louis, of an effort to aid former Congressman James E. Watson of Indiana, politically, and of how well he knew former Senator Beveridge of that state.

He gave details of another visit to Maine and another effort to give political assistance to former Congressman Littlefield of that state.

Mentions Prominent Men.

He mentioned again former President Taft, the late Vice President Sherman, the late James W. Van Cleave of the National Association of Manufacturers and other men prominently connected at one time or other with that organization.

The witness thought about $22,000 had been raised in Indiana for the Watson campaign.

Mulhall told of how he broke a strike of shoeworkers in St. Louis. He swore that $3,000 had been turned over to him by F. C. Schwedman, secretary of Van Cleave, to pay to the strike leader to end the difficulty. Schwedman, who was in the room, will be allowed to take the stand when Mulhall has finished.

While the Overman committee sailed along with Mulhall, Chairman Garrett and the house investigators began to look over the "lobbyists" correspondence.

James A. Emery, local counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, did not turn over the papers under subpoena, declining to do so until he was assured that they could be kept in a fire and burglar proof safe. The Garrett committee probably will rent a deposit box for them.

OPPOSE RUSSIA'S DEMANDS

Great Excitement Follows Announcement in China.

Peking, July 16.—Russia presented to the Chinese government new demands, requiring recognition of the full autonomy of outer Mongolia, declaring China to be suzerain only, binding China to accept Russian intervention and recognizing all the rights conceded to Russia by the agreement and protocol signed at Urga, the capital of Mongolia, on Nov. 3, 1912.

Both houses of the Chinese parliament have been hastily summoned to consider the demands. Strong opposition to them is voiced by both Chinese and foreigners and great excitement prevails at the unexpected turn of events.

BIG BUTTER INCREASE SHOWN

Minnesota Output in 1912 17,067,089 Pounds More Than in 1911.

St. Paul, July 16.—There were 17,067,089 pounds more of creamery butter made in Minnesota in 1912 than in 1911, according to figures just compiled by J. G. Winkler, state dairy and food commissioner.

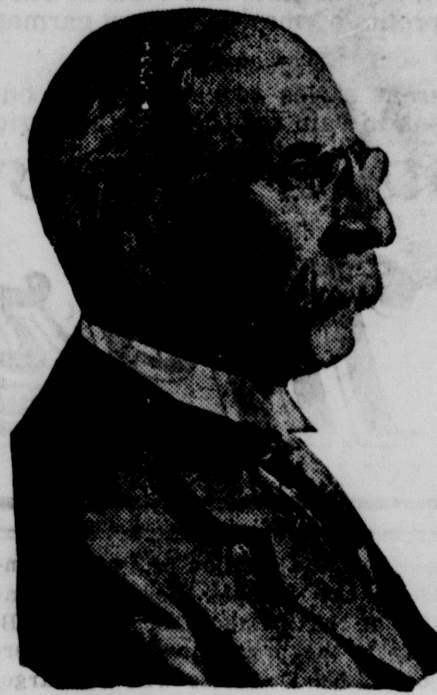

The average price increased 3 cents per pound and the total amount received by the creameries was $29,040,975 in 1912. The total output last year was 116,051,878 pounds as against 99,984,789 in 1911.

BALLOONIST DROWNS

Topeka, Kan., July 16.—Frank W. Jacobs, twenty-three years old, a balloonist well known over the Central West, was drowned while bathing in the Kansas river here. His brother, W. Jacobs, narrowly escaped drowning while trying to rescue him.

GEORGE W. GUTHRIE.

Jap Entertains American Envoy at San Francisco.

GUTHRIE IS GUEST OF JAP

American Ambassador Entertained at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 16.—George W. Guthrie, the newly appointed American ambassador to Japan, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Dr. Juichi Soyeda, who has been investigating the condition of the Japanese in California and sounding the sentiment of this country toward his nation. There was an exchange of felicitations and mutual good wishes, but no declarations of significance.

TERRIFIC STORM HITS TWIN CITIES

One Person Killed and Number of Others Injured.

St. Paul, July 16.—One killed, one injured, many others shocked or stunned, two churches and a number of dwellings struck and set on fire by lightning and great damage by the flooding of streets, sewers and basements, was the toll of a severe electrical and rain storm which passed over St. Paul.

For nearly a half hour the rain fell in torrents, accompanied by one of the worst electrical discharges in years. Street car traffic was delayed and on many lines tied up for some time by washouts and by sand washed upon the tracks. In the downtown district the streets were running like miniature rivers.

Sewers which have seldom before been taxed to their full capacity were overflowed by the deluge and the surplus water filled many basements in the downtown districts, causing considerable damage.

In Minneapolis the damage to property was even greater than in St. Paul, much more rain falling. Three-quarters of an inch of rain was registered as falling in St. Paul, while the total rainfall in the other city was 1.13 inches.

SAVES LIVE WIRE VICTIM

Brave Woman Goes to Rescue When Others Fail.

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 16.—Mrs. A. Brecher disregarded the warnings of a score of bystanders and freed eight-year-old Floyd Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown, from contact with a live wire.

Mrs. Brecher was at her home a block away when she heard the boy scream. When she reached him she found a score of persons standing about, afraid to attempt a rescue.

She grasped a dry piece of wood and pushed the wire out of the victim's hand, the flesh of which already had been severely burned.

Mrs. Brecher then began to rub the boy and a pulmonologist completed resuscitation. The boy was taken to the hospital, where two fingers were amputated.

SPANISH LOSSES ARE HEAVY

Fighting With Moors in Morocco Is Almost Continuous.

Tetuan, Morocco, July 16.—Fighting has been practically continuous in this vicinity for the past six days. On Friday a column of 12,000 Spanish troops marched into the surrounding region where they met a fierce reception from the Moors. After fighting all day and burning a few natives' huts they returned to their original position, having lost sixty killed and 150 wounded.

ONE KILLED ON WARSHIP

Seaman Fatally Scalded and Electrician Injured.

Boston, July 16.—Henry A. Agena, an ordinary seaman, was fatally scalded and James Leary a first class electrician, was severely injured when a steam valve blew out in the dynamo room of the battleship Nebraska in the yard at the Charleston navy yard. Agena was working as an electrician's helper. Leary when the accident occurred.

LOBBY'S SALE OF VOTES A FRAUD

Cannot Deliver, but They Get Buyers Just the Same.

GOLD BRICK TRADE ACTIVE.

Administration Wiping the Barnacles From the Ship of State—New Rule of Sending Army Officers Back to Their Commands and Naval Officers to Ships Declared a Necessity.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 16.—[Special.]—Many witnesses that have appeared before the investigating committees and reluctantly told or skillfully avoided telling their connection with lobbying have won the contempt of the steady listeners—those who remain all the time for one reason or another. These witnesses have often been engaged in questionable transactions, sometimes selling the votes and support of senators and members for or against measures and procedure by the administration and the courts. Of course they did not have the "goods" to deliver, but they made their buyers believe that they were dealing in jobs of senators and representatives.

The contempt has not only extended to the witnesses who told how they duped men with money seeking favors, but also to those who were duped by such palpable frauds. The whole investigation has developed reasons why men sell gold bricks, why bunko business prospers, why wildcat schemes are so easily floated. There are "suckers" everywhere willing to part with their money if the right kind of bait is used.

Bouncing the Barnacles.

After men have been holding office in Washington for sixteen straight years without fear of decapitation they become too arrogant for public service, more particularly when they have been placed in positions of authority. The greatest blessing which changes of administration bring is the elimination from the public service of those who grow to believe that they "own the government." These thoughts are inspired by the removal of a number of men by the present administration who had become barnacles and stood in the way of governmental progress.

"Manchus" Everywhere.

Congress recognized the necessity of moving men in the public service by providing that all company officers in the army must serve with their commands every four years. Secretary Garrison has supplemented the legislation by ordering all officers who have been four years in Washington back to their commands, thus making "Manchus" of all. Secretary Daniels has made a like move in the navy. So it is becoming recognized as a necessity in the fixed service to have changes, and similar changes in the civil service, where men hold positions of authority, are equally desirable.

Bacon's Business.

Senator Bacon has one regular stunt every day. He puts the senate in executive session. That seems to be the prerogative of the chairman of the committee on foreign relations. It was the most important act each day of the venerable Senator Culom when he held the same position which the Georgia senator now occupies.

Not a Junket.

A trip by the members of the house committee on naval affairs to the different navy yards along the Atlantic coast is not a junket. They go in a navy ship, one of the small dispatch boats, but they pay their own mess bills. The government has no extra expense because the ship is in commission and the cost would go along just the same. Of course it is a pretty nice trip at this time of year.

Plenty of Time.

The house of representatives will have plenty of time to consider the currency bill. The senate will afford that opportunity while the tariff discussion is going on. And by the looks of things it will be necessary to give the members of the banking and currency committee ample time to consider the bill.

If the Democratic members really agree on the terms of any kind of bill it will be little short of a miracle. Every man has a different idea of what kind of currency legislation should be enacted. Uncle Joe Cannon once said that all that seemed necessary to make men absolutely in disagreement with each other was to make them members of the currency committee.

Trying to Save His Face.

Admiral Dewey once said that he was devoting all his time now to living just as long as he could. Consequently he hesitates about having a plaster cast made of his face. Quite a number of persons are interested in trying to "save their faces" for future generations, but the hero of Manila Bay has some doubt about the possibility of an accident.

"It Pays to Advertise."

"One thing is sure," remarked a member of the house, "the pure food law lost a lot of advertising when Dr. Wiley retired from the agricultural department. I don't know whether he accomplished much or not, but he certainly did keep pure foods before the public with mighty little expense, for it was mostly free advertising."

North Carolina's Gold.

The largest gold mines in the United States east of the Black Hills are in North Carolina.

PRINCE ARTHUR.

His Engagement Announced to Princess Alexandra Victoria.

SUFFRAGIST BEAUTY WEDS

Miss Inez Milholland Marries Eugene Boissevain in London.

London, July 16.—Miss Inez Milholland, the New York suffragist, was married in this city to Eugene Boissevain, a wealthy Dutchman whose home is in Amsterdam.

The couple is now spending the honeymoon on his estate near Amsterdam, according to a report here. The wedding ceremony was performed in a registry office in the presence of only the necessary legal witnesses.

Mrs. Boissevain will remain constant to her old friends of the suffrage movement. She said: "Tell them I shall not give up my suffrage activities."

FAVORS ABOLITION OF INDIAN BUREAU

Secretary Lane Advocates Settling Indians Free.

Washington, July 16.—"The greatest service we can do for the Indian is to set him free and the Indian bureau should be a vanishing bureau," said Secretary Lane in a letter to Representative Scott Ferriss of Oklahoma, respecting the proposed investigation of the Indian service.

Secretary Lane is impressed with the idea that the government has "no philosophy either as to legislation or as to administration touching affairs."

"An examination should be made into Indian affairs and it should be most searching," he wrote. "I am satisfied that it will be easy to discover a large number of wrongs that have been done the Indians and certain and serious defects in our method of handling them."

"Instead of a temporary commission, which can do little more than unearth matters of scandal in the various agencies (some of which are now being examined into) I trust congress will see fit to establish a permanent commission which shall supersede the present system of administration and be granted the fullest power necessary to reorganize the bureau."

SURVIVOR OF LIGHT BRIGADE

Daniel Dowling Took Part in Famous Charge at Balaklava.

Utica, N. Y., July 16.—Daniel Dowling, a survivor of the charge of the Light brigade at Balaklava, died in the county home.

Dowling was born in Ireland in 1832 and served twenty years in the British army. He passed through the charge of the Light brigade at Balaklava without a scratch but was wounded afterwards by a piece of shell at Inkerman in the Crimean war. He never received any pension from England and has lived in this city for nearly forty years.

SEES SON KILLED.

Chico, Cal., July 16.—Thaddeus Kern, twenty-year-old aviator, was killed when the engine of his airplane exploded seventy-five feet in the air. He was crushed under the wreckage. Kern's aged mother, who had stepped to her doorway to see her son fly past, saw the tragedy.

Paint Creek Strike Over.

Charleston, W. Va., July 16.—The Paint Creek Collieries company, operating nine mines on Paint creek, signed the agreement of the United Mine Workers of America and the miners' strike on that creek is expected to be called off at once. A strike is still in force on Cabin creek, which adjoins.

NEWLANDS BILL BECOMES LAW

LORDS BLOCK HOME RULE

Motion for Second Reading of Irish Bill Defeated.

London, July 16.—A motion for the second reading of the home rule for Ireland bill was defeated in the house of lords by a majority of 62. The vote was 302 to 364.

The motion of Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition in the upper house, which declared, "that this house declines to proceed with the consideration of the bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country," was then adopted without a division.

CALL LEXINGTON STRIKE OFF

Carmen's Union Ratifies Agreement Reached at Conference.

Lexington, Ky., July 16.—At a meeting of the street carmen's union the agreement reached at a conference of officers of the Kentucky Traction company, representatives of the striking carmen and Acting Governor McDermott was ratified and the strike officially declared off.

By the terms of the agreement the company recognizes the union of carmen on the open shop plan, agrees to take back all of the old men and pay the scale of wages formulated by the union.

PRESIDENT PROMPTLY SIGNS

Measure Provides New Federal Machinery for Adjustment of Railway Wage Disputes—Chief Executive Announces He Will Name Mediation Commissioners as Soon as Possible.

Washington, July 16.—New federal machinery for the adjustment of railroad wage disputes was authorized when the house and senate passed and the president signed the Newlands-Clayton bill just as it was agreed upon at the White House conference between President Wilson, congressional leaders and representatives of the big Eastern railways and their employees.

This law creates a board of mediation and conciliation, headed by a commissioner, to which the Eastern railways and employees' brotherhoods have declared their willingness to submit the wage dispute on account of which 80,000 conductors and trainmen have voted to strike.

The union officers agreed to an armistice pending action by congress and officials here expect them now to make ready to lay their case before the federal mediators as soon as President Wilson makes the appointments.

Meets With No Obstacles.

The new law went through both houses of congress without an obstacle being put in its way. After it reached the White House this statement was issued:

"The president signed the Newlands act as soon as it reached the White House and announced through his secretary, Mr. Tumulty, that he would proceed as soon as possible, consistent with the importance of the appointments, to the selection of the commissioners of mediation as provided in the act."

Seth Low, president of the National Civic Federation, who has been instrumental in bringing the railroads and their employees together in the present dispute, is prominently mentioned for the position of commissioner of mediation and conciliation.

As the other two members of the board are to be government officials, it was regarded as probable that Judge Martin A. Knapp of the commerce court and an assistant to one of the cabinet officers, possibly an assistant attorney general, would be considered.

POKES FUN AT COMMONER

Senate Resolution Refers to William J. Bryan's Salary.

Washington, July 16.—Washington was interested chiefly in developments following Secretary Bryan's statement that he had to spend his vacation on the lecture platform, because he couldn't live on the salary of $12,000 a year.

The lobby investigation, the tariff and the Mexican situation were forgotten temporarily, at least, while everybody talked about the resolution introduced by Senator Bristow calling on the president "to advise the senate what would be a proper salary to enable the present secretary of state to live with comfort and to enable him to give his time to the discharge of his public duties."

When the Bristow resolution was read, amid Republican laughter, Democratic Leader Kern and other senators immediately objected to its consideration and, after a few brief exchanges, it went over. It was fully discussed, however, in the lobbies and cloak rooms at both ends of the Capitol.

MAN AND WOMAN ROBBERS

Knock Los Angeles Jewelry Store Proprietor Unconscious.

Los Angeles, July 16.—A man and woman entered the jewelry store of C. J. Carlson on an outlying business street, knocked him senseless, bound and gagged him and escaped with diamonds valued at from $4,000 to $5,000. Carlson, unconscious, was found in his establishment soon after the two robbers escaped.

The fact that the robbery was committed by a man and woman and the circumstances surrounding the crime recalled the murder of the money lender, Charles E. Pendell

Washington, July 16.—Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, in a speech defending the Wilson tariff bill of 1893 from responsibility for the financial panic which followed, charged former President Cleveland and the New York banks with conspiracy to precipitate a calamity to force repeal of the Sherman silver act.

Though denouncing the 1893 bill as "a most miserable pretense of tariff reform," he branded the New York Stock Exchange as the "most prodigious gambling hell of any age" and "the Monte Carlo of American finance."

Senator Williams of Mississippi said the people at last had found out that the Republican argument that the Wilson bill brought on the great panic was a lie.

"It took them a long time to find it out," suggested Senator Warren.

"Yes, because there were liars going about the land preaching this idea," Senator Williams replied. "There never has been in history an organized lie that couldn't make an impression, but now the people know that this argument was an organized lie."

"By what authority does the senator say that?" asked Senator Warren.

"By the authority of the last election," said Senator Williams.

SAVES LIVE WIRE VICTIM

Brave Woman Goes to Rescue When Others Fail.

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 16.—Mrs. A. Breecher disregarded the warnings of a score of bystanders and freed eight-year-old Floyd Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown, from contact with a live wire.

Mrs. Breecher was at her home a block away when she heard the boy scream. When she reached him she found a score of persons standing about, afraid to attempt a rescue. She grasped a dry piece of wood and pushed the wire out of the victim's hand, the flesh of which already had been severely burned.

Mrs. Breecher then began to rub the boy and a pulmotor completed resuscitation. The boy was taken to the hospital, where two fingers were amputated.

SPANISH LOSSES ARE HEAVY

Fighting With Moors in Morocco Is Almost Continuous.

Tetuan, Morocco, July 16.—Fighting has been practically continuous in this vicinity for the past six days. On Friday a column of 12,000 Spanish troops marched into the surrounding region where they met a fierce reception from the Moors. After fighting all day and burning a few natives' huts they returned to their original position, having lost sixty killed and 150 wounded.

Seaman Fatally Scalded and Electrician Injured.

Boston, July 16.—Henry A. Agena, an ordinary seaman, was fatally scalded and James Leary a first class electrician, was severely injured when a steam valve blew out in the dynamo of the battleship Nebraska in the yard at the Charleston navy yard. Agena was working as an electrician's helper. Leary when the accident occurred.

Cannot Deliver, but They Get Buyers Just the Same.

GOLD BRICK TRADE ACTIVE.

Administration Wiping the Barnacles From the Ship of State—New Rule of Sending Army Officers Back to Their Commands and Naval Officers to Ships Declared a Necessity.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 16.—[Special.]—Many witnesses that have appeared before the investigating committees and reluctantly told or skillfully avoided telling their connection with lobbying have won the contempt of the steady listeners—those who remain all the time for one reason or another. These witnesses have often been engaged in questionable transactions, sometimes selling the votes and support of senators and members for or against measures and procedure by the administration and the courts. Of course they did not have the "goods" to deliver, but they made their buyers believe that they were dealing in job lots of senators and representatives.

The contempt has not only extended to the witnesses who told how they duped men with money seeking favors, but also to those who were duped by such palpable frauds. The whole investigation has developed reasons why men sell gold bricks, why bunco business prospers, why wildcat schemes are so easily floated. There are "suckers" everywhere willing to part with their money if the right kind of bait is used.

Bouncing the Barnacles.

After men have been holding office in Washington for sixteen straight years without fear of decapitation they become too arrogant for public service, more particularly when they have been placed in positions of authority. The greatest blessing which changes of administration bring is the elimination from the public service of those who grow to believe that they "own the government." These thoughts are inspired by the removal of a number of men by the present administration who had become barnacles and stood in the way of governmental progress.

"Manchus" Everywhere.

Congress recognized the necessity of moving men in the public service by providing that all company officers in the army must serve with their commands every four years. Secretary Garrison has supplemented the legislation by ordering all officers who have been four years in Washington back to their commands, thus making "Manchus" of all. Secretary Daniels has made a like move in the navy. So it is becoming recognized as a necessity in the fixed service to have changes, and similar changes in the civil service, where men hold positions of authority, are equally desirable.

Bacon's Business.

Senator Bacon has one regular stunt every day. He puts the senate in executive session. That seems to be the prerogative of the chairman of the committee on foreign relations. It was the most important act each day of the venerable Senator Cullom when he held the same position which the Georgia senator now occupies.

Not a Junket.

A trip by the members of the house committee on naval affairs to the different navy yards along the Atlantic coast is not a junket. They go in a navy ship, one of the small dispatch boats, but they pay their own mess bills. The government has no extra expense because the ship is in commission and the cost would go along just the same. Of course it is a pretty nice trip at this time of year.

Plenty of Time.

The house of representatives will have plenty of time to consider the currency bill. The senate will afford that opportunity while the tariff discussion is going on. And by the looks of things it will be necessary to give the members of the banking and currency committee ample time to consider the bill.

If the Democratic members really agree on the terms of any kind of bill it will be little short of a miracle. Every man has a different idea of what kind of currency legislation should be enacted. Uncle Joe Cannon once said that all that seemed necessary to make men absolutely in disagreement with each other was to make them members of the currency committee.

Trying to Save His Face.

Admiral Dewey once said that he was devoting all his time now to living just as long as he could. Consequently he hesitates about having a plaster cast made of his face. Quite a number of persons are interested in trying to "save their faces" for future generations, but the hero of Manila Bay has some doubt about the possibility of an accident.

"It Pays to Advertise."

"One thing is sure," remarked a member of the house, "the pure food law lost a lot of advertising when Dr. Wiley retired from the agricultural department. I don't know whether he accomplished much or not, but he certainly did keep pure foods before the public with mighty little expense, for it was mostly free advertising."

SUFFRAGIST BEAUTY WEDS

Miss Inez Milholland Marries Eugene Boissevain in London.

London, July 16.—Miss Inez Milholland, the New York suffragist, was married in this city to Eugene Boissevain, a wealthy Dutchman whose home is in Amsterdam.

The couple is now spending the honeymoon on his estate near Amsterdam, according to a report here. The wedding ceremony was performed in a registry office in the presence of only the necessary legal witnesses.

Mrs. Boissevain will remain constant to her old friends of the suffrage movement. She said: "Tell them I shall not give up my suffrage activities."

FAVORS ABOLITION OF INDIAN BUREAU

Secretary Lane Advocates Settling Indians Free.

Washington, July 16.—"The greatest service we can do for the Indian is to set him free and the Indian bureau should be a vanishing bureau," said Secretary Lane in a letter to Representative Scott Ferriss of Oklahoma, respecting the proposed investigation of the Indian service.

Secretary Lane is impressed with the idea that the government has "no philosophy either as to legislation or as to administration touching affairs."

"An examination should be made into Indian affairs and it should be most searching," he wrote. "I am satisfied that it will be easy to discover a large number of wrongs that have been done the Indians and certain and serious defects in our method of handling them."

SURVIVOR OF LIGHT BRIGADE

Daniel Dowling Took Part in Famous Charge at Balaklava.

Utica, N. Y., July 16.—Daniel Dowling, a survivor of the charge of the Light brigade at Balaklava, died in the county home.

Dowling was born in Ireland in 1832 and served twenty years in the British army. He passed through the charge of the Light brigade at Balaklava without a scratch but was wounded afterwards by a piece of shell at Inkerman in the Crimean war. He never received any pension from England and has lived in this city for nearly forty years.

SEES SON KILLED.

Chico, Cal., July 16.—Thaddeus Kerns, twenty-year-old aviator, was killed when the engine of his plane exploded seventy-five feet in the air. He was crushed under the wreckage. Kerns' aged mother, who had stepped to her doorway to see her son fly past, saw the tragedy.

PAINT CREEK STRIKE OVER.

Charleston, W. Va., July 16.—The Paint Creek Collieries company, operating nine mines on Paint creek, signed the agreement of the United Mine Workers of America and the miners' strike on that creek is expected to be called off at once. A strike is still in force on Cabin creek, which adjoins.

NEWLANDS BILL BECOMES LAW

LORDS BLOCK HOME RULE

Motion for Second Reading of Irish Bill Defeated.

London, July 16.—A motion for the second reading of the home rule for Ireland bill was defeated in the house of lords by a majority of 62. The vote was 302 to 394.

The motion of Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition in the upper house, which declared, "that this house declines to proceed with the consideration of the bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country," was then adopted without a division.

CALL LEXINGTON STRIKE OFF

Carmen's Union Ratifies Agreement Reached at Conference.

Lexington, Ky., July 16.—At a meeting of the street carmen's union the agreement reached at a conference of officers of the Kentucky Traction company, representatives of the striking carmen and Acting Governor McDermott was ratified and the strike officially declared off.

By the terms of the agreement the company recognizes the union of carmen on the open shop plan, agrees to take back all of the old men and pay the scale of wages formulated by the union.

Passes Both Houses and Goes to White House.

PRESIDENT PROMPTLY SIGNS

Measure Provides New Federal Machinery for Adjustment of Railway Wage Disputes—Chief Executive Announces He Will Name Mediation Commissioners as Soon as Possible.

Washington, July 16.—New federal machinery for the adjustment of railroad wage disputes was authorized when the house and senate passed and the president signed the Newlands-Clayton bill just as it was agreed upon at the White House conference between President Wilson, congressional leaders and representatives of the big Eastern railways and their employees.

This law creates a board of mediation and conciliation, headed by a commissioner, to which the Eastern railways and employees' brotherhoods have declared their willingness to submit the wage dispute on account of which 80,000 conductors and trainmen have voted to strike.

The union officers agreed to an armistice pending action by congress and officials here expect them now to make ready to lay their case before the federal mediators as soon as President Wilson makes the appointments.

Meets With No Obstacles. The new law went through both houses of congress without an obstacle being put in its way. After it reached the White House this statement was issued:

"The president signed the Newlands act as soon as it reached the White House and announced through his secretary, Mr. Tamm, that he would proceed as soon as possible, consistent with the importance of the appointments, to the selection of the commissioners of mediation as provided in the act."

Seth Low, president of the National Civic federation, who has been instrumental in bringing the railroads and their employees together in the present dispute, is prominently mentioned for the position of commissioner of mediation and conciliation.

As the other two members of the board are to be government officials, it was regarded as probable that Judge Martin A. Knapp of the commerce court and an assistant to one of the cabinet officers, possibly an assistant attorney general, would be considered.

Senate Resolution Refers to William J. Bryan's Salary.

Washington, July 16.—Washington was interested chiefly in developments following Secretary Bryan's statement that he had to spend his vacation on the lecture platform, because he couldn't live on the salary of $12,000 a year.

The lobby investigation, the tariff and the Mexican situation were forgotten temporarily, at least, while everybody talked about the resolution introduced by Senator Bristow calling on the president "to advise the senate what would be a proper salary to enable the present secretary of state to live with comfort and to enable him to give his time to the discharge of his public duties."

When the Bristow resolution was read, amid Republican laughter, Democratic Leader Kern and other senators immediately objected to its consideration and, after a few brief exchanges, it went over. It was fully discussed, however, in the lobbies and cloak rooms at both ends of the Capitol.

MAN AND WOMAN ROBBERS

Knock Los Angeles Jewelry Store Proprietor Unconscious.

Los Angeles, July 16.—A man and woman entered the jewelry store of C. J. Carlson on an outlying business street, knocked him senseless, bound and gagged him and escaped with diamonds valued at from $4,000 to $5,000. Carlson, unconscious, was found in his establishment soon after the two robbers escaped.

The fact that the robbery was committed by a man and woman and the circumstances surrounding the crime recalled the murder of the money lender, Charles E. Pendell, who was found dead in his office two weeks ago.

A man and woman beat Pendell to death.

WARN SHIPS BY WIRELESS

General Weather Forecasts to Be Sent Out Nightly.

Washington, July 16.—Wireless storm warnings and general weather forecasts for ships at sea, covering conditions 100 miles off shore all along the Atlantic coast, is the latest innovation of the agricultural and navy departments.

The plan was inaugurated last night and hereafter every night a few minutes after 10 o'clock bulletins will be sent broadcast from the great naval wireless stations at Radio, Va., and Key West, Fla.

A CITY MANAGER CHARTER
The people of this city are all interested in the work of the charter commission and the different ideas advanced in the cities working under the commission form of government and the different plans being discussed by the other cities which are preparing to vote on the same. The Duluth Herald contains the following which will be interesting at this time, inasmuch as it presents the workings of what is known as the city manager plan:

"The people of Youngstown, Ohio, a city about the size of Duluth, will vote July 22 on a very interesting short ballot charter with most of the newest features included in the Duluth charter, with the addition of a city manager plan in the working out of which there will be much interest—if the citizens adopt the charter, as now seems likely.

Partisanship, of course, is entirely eliminated, as it is in all up-to-date city charters. The short ballot idea is carried out, the only officers elected being nine councilmen, one from each ward but all elected by the vote of the entire city. The preferential ballot is much like Duluth's, the primary being abolished and the entire process being confined to a single election, the voters being allowed first, second and third choices. Apparently there is but one third choice, while in Duluth there may be as many as the voter chooses.

The plan of government is that commonly known as the city manager plan. The council is strictly a legislative body, and it is to pass all ordinances, determine all questions of policy, and direct the work of the administrative officers. But none of the councilmen may perform any administrative work. The council will elect one of its own members as chairman, and he will take the title of mayor. Though he will have certain emergency powers, he will be charged with no administrative duties under ordinary conditions. The councilmen will serve without pay except a nominal fee for attendance at meetings. The council will appoint a "general director," who will correspond to the position in private employment of general manager, as the council will correspond to the board of directors of a corporation. The general director will be the chief administrative officer of the city. He will be charged with responsibility for the proper conduct of all public business, as the servant of the council. He will act only by authority of the council, which can remove him at any time. There are to be four principal administrative departments—public safety, public service, finance and law. The director will appoint the heads of the departments of law and finance, and will himself take charge of the departments of safety and service. The directors of law and finance will appoint the heads of the various sub-departments under them, with the approval of the general director, and his own subordinates in the departments of public safety and public service.

The council will fix the salary of the general director, and he, with the advice of council, will fix the salaries of the directors of the principal departments. These directors, in turn, with the approval of the general director, will fix the salaries of their subordinates.

From the general director down, all appointments will be for indefinite terms, subject to removal at any time by the appointing power, subject to civil service rules for subordinate officers.

Obviously, this is an attempt to apply to city business the plan that has been so successful in corporation affairs—management by a single individual, appointed by and subject to the advice of a board of directors, elected by the stockholders—the citizens."

CITY GOVERNMENT

The following editorial from the Knickerbocker Press contains so many good points which seem applicable at this time to the condition in Brainerd that it is reproduced for the benefit of the citizens generally:

"The great trouble with the government of most cities is partisan politics. There should be no politics in city government community interests. The people are taxed that they may have good streets and that these streets may be kept in repair; that they may have police and fire protection; that ashes and garbage may be collected; that public utilities may be regulated to perform real social and domestic service economically; that all public utilities for the common good may be co-operative of the highest efficiency. City government, to be perfect, should be an agency to perfect every day conveniences which will make the community comfortable, healthy, happy and prosperous. It is recognized now that partisan politics has no place in purely domestic affairs, should have no place in municipal economic affairs. The problems of municipal government are really enlarged domestic problems. There should be the same brotherhood and co-operation and helpfulness in the city that there is in the family. The sooner the voters realize that what they want is not a republican mayor, or a democratic mayor, or a progressive mayor, or a prohibition mayor or a socialist mayor, but a business head of the city government who shall be efficient and thoroughly in sympathy with the people, who shall not meddle in partisan politics and shall be responsible directly to the people. What is needed at the head of a city government are men who will put their shoulders to the wheel of progress for the city and every individual in it, men who do not know, so far as their connection with the city government is concerned, to which political party they belong."

Coats and Suits At Half Price
Bargains in high grade garments that have been well worth waiting for!
At last we have had the right opportunity for rounding up our huge stock of Women's, Misses' and Children's Ready-to-Wear—and taking note of the broken lines caused by the tremendous sales in this department since the season opened—an opportunity we have been waiting for in vain during the last few weeks. Only now after reviewing calmly the work of sorting out and sizing up, can we realize the enormous amount of business done here in suits, coats and skirts this season.
Having now accomplished our object, we place on sale every single suit, coat dress, skirt and odd-sized garment that this round-up has brought to light. And if ever the women and children of this town and surrounding country were given an opportunity of securing smart, stylish suits and coats at but a fraction of their true worth, that opportunity is now and here. We have simply disregarded profits by marking every garment at a price that we know from experience will send these goods flying out like a whirlwind.
There are many different styles to choose from, but of course not every size of a style. Yet the assortments are so varied that no woman need look in vain for the style and price she most desires.

A CITY MANAGER CHARTER
The people of this city are all interested in the work of the charter commission and the different ideas advanced in the cities working under the commission form of government and the different plans being discussed by the other cities which are preparing to vote on the same. The Duluth Herald contains the following which will be interesting at this time, inasmuch as it presents the workings of what is known as the city manager plan:

"The people of Youngstown, Ohio, a city about the size of Duluth, will vote July 22 on a very interesting short ballot charter with most of the newest features included in the Duluth charter, with the addition of a city manager plan in the working out of which there will be much interest—if the citizens adopt the charter, as now seems likely.

Partisanship, of course, is entirely eliminated, as it is in all up-to-date city charters. The short ballot idea is carried out, the only officers elected being nine councilmen, one from each ward but all elected by the vote of the entire city. The preferential ballot is much like Duluth's, the primary being abolished and the entire process being confined to a single election, the voters being allowed first, second and third choices. Apparently there is but one third choice, while in Duluth there may be as many as the voter chooses.

The initiative, the referendum and the recall, of course, are features of the proposed charter.

The plan of government is that commonly known as the city manager plan. The council is strictly a legislative body, and it is to pass all ordinances, determine all questions of policy, and direct the work of the administrative officers. But none of the councilmen may perform any administrative work. The council will elect one of its own members as chairman, and he will take the title of mayor. Though he will have certain emergency powers, he will be charged with no administrative duties under ordinary conditions. The councilmen will serve without pay except a nominal fee for attendance at meetings.

The council will appoint a "general director" who will correspond to the position in private employment of general manager, as the council will correspond to the board of directors of a corporation. The general director will be the chief administrative officer of the city. He will be charged with responsibility for the proper conduct of all public business, as the servant of the council. He will act only by authority of the council, which can remove him at any time.

There are to be four principal administrative departments—public safety, public service, finance and law. The director will appoint the heads of the departments of law and finance, and will himself take charge of the departments of safety and service. The directors of law and finance will appoint the heads of the various sub-departments under them, with the approval of the general director, and his own subordinates in the departments of public safety and public service.

The council will fix the salary of the general director, and he, with the advice of council, will fix the salaries of the directors of the principal departments. These directors, in turn, with the approval of the general director, will fix the salaries of their subordinates.

From the general director down, all appointments will be for indefinite terms, subject to removal at any time by the appointing power, subject to civil service rules for subordinate officers.

Obviously, this is an attempt to apply to city business the plan that has been so successful in corporation affairs—management by a single individual, appointed by and subject to the advice of a board of directors, elected by the stockholders—the citizens."

CITY GOVERNMENT
The following editorial from the Knickerbocker Press contains so many good points which seem applicable at this time to the condition in Brainerd that it is reproduced for the benefit of the citizens generally:

"The great trouble with the government of most cities is partisan politics. There should be no politics in city government community interests. The people are taxed that they may have good streets and that these streets may be kept in repair; that they may have police and fire protection; that ashes and garbage may be collected; that public utilities may be regulated to perform real social and domestic service economically; that all public utilities for the common good may be co-operative of the highest efficiency. City government, to be perfect, should be an agency to perfect every day conveniences which will make the community comfortable, healthy, happy and prosperous. It is recognized now that partisan politics has no place in purely domestic affairs, should have no place in municipal economic affairs. The problems of municipal government are really enlarged domestic problems. There should be the same brotherhood and co-operation and helpfulness in the city that there is in the family. The sooner the voters realize that what they want is not a republican mayor, or a democratic mayor, or a progressive mayor, or a prohibition mayor or a socialist mayor, but a business head of the city government who shall be efficient and thoroughly in sympathy with the people, who shall not meddle in partisan politics and shall be responsible directly to the people. What is needed at the head of a city government are men who will put their shoulders to the wheel of progress for the city and every individual in it, men who do not know, so far as their connection with the city government is concerned, to which political party they belong."

Bargains in high grade garments that have been well worth waiting for!

At last we have had the right opportunity for rounding up our huge stock of Women's, Misses' and Children's Ready-to-Wear—and taking note of the broken lines caused by the tremendous sales in this department since the season opened—an opportunity we have been waiting for in vain during the last few weeks. Only now after reviewing calmly the work of sorting out and sizing up, can we realize the enormous amount of business done here in suits, coats and skirts this season.

Having now accomplished our object, we place on sale, every single suit, coat dress, skirt and odd-sized garment that this round-up has brought to light. And if ever the women and children of this town and surrounding country were given an opportunity of securing smart, stylish suits and coats at but a fraction of their true worth, that opportunity is now and here. We have simply disregarded profits by marking every garment at a price that we know from experience will send these goods flying out like a whirlwind.

There are many different styles to choose from, but of course not every size of a style. Yet the assortments are so varied that no woman need look in vain for the style and price she most desires.

"BIG BEN" will conduct A BIG PUBLIC SALE

ALL ABOUT Big Ben

You've been wondering why we call this a Big Ben Sale. Surely, you know Big Ben, the alarm clock that wakes you every morning or that you have seen advertised in all the magazines. Well, he's the fellow that's running this sale, and this is how he does it: Every day of this sale the Big Ben Alarm goes off at 10 and 10:30 a. m. and between these two alarms you or anyone else can buy some one line of goods at a price even below regular wholesale cost. See the big square below for full particulars.

For Bye & Peterson, Brainerd

$25,000.00 Stock of Men's and Boys' CLOTHING and FURNISHINGS
Commencing at 9 a. m. Thursday, July 17th

Your Railroad Fare Paid

If you come within 30 miles and trade $15.00 or more.

No one who lives near enough to make the trip in one day can afford to miss this money-saving chance.

At Least $5,000.00 Worth of Goods Must be Sold in the next 15 Days

At 9 a. m. Thursday, July 17 we will

GIVE CASH AWAY

$1.00 cash will be paid to the first ten persons above the age of 18 who enter our store when the doors are opened at 9 a. m. All we ask is that you spend the $1 here before you leave. You actually receive $1 worth of anything in the store for nothing.

The Time is Short, Hence the Prices will be Extremely Low

You have our word that this is something more than an ordinary sale. The reason in the necessity for reducing the stock a great deal in a hurry in order that we can carry out some contemplated changes in our business without delay. The time is short—quick action is what we want and must have—hence prices will be extremely low—probably the lowest you have known in years. Don't doubt—investigate the truth of this statement. Don't hesitate—come quick and find out this is

The Greatest Money-saving Opportunity of the Times

When the sale opens at 9 a. m. Thursday, July 17, everything that could be done to make the prompt and satisfactory handling of the crowds possible will have been done. We will have plenty of good, competent, trustworthy clerks who will take pains to see that you are satisfactorily served. Everything will bear a ticket with the sale price marked in plain figures, and this will be the lowest price ever quoted on and article of equal worth. $5,000.00 worth of goods must be sold in fifteen days. We know there is only one way to do it—make the prices so ridiculously low that people will come from far and near and supply not only their immediate needs, but future needs for many months.

At 9 a. m. Thursday, July 17 we will

Goods Almost Given Away For One-Half Hour Every Day Commencing at 10 a. m. every morning when you hear Big Ben's loud clanging ring, we will sell one line of goods during the next half hour only at a ridiculously low price—a price so low that you'll scarcely believe your own eyes. These prices will be in effect only until Big Ben announces that it's 10:30. Every day it's something different for the half hour Big Ben Bargain Special. We are making these sacrifices on these goods to draw big crowds of people every day, who will see the many attractive bargains all over the store and so buy a great many goods that they would not think of getting if they did not see with their own eyes what unusual bargains were offered. The people who come one day will go home and tell their friends and neighbors about the extraordinary chance to save money, and so the daily crowds will increase. Don't forget these daily half hour specials 10 to 10:30. Anyone can take advantage of them who has bought 50c worth of any other goods in the store on the same day. This is the only condition upon which you will be entitled to get so much value for so little money as these Big Ben half hour Bargain Specials offer. Now, we don't want anyone to be disappointed because they can't get waited on during any of these half hour specials, if we can help it. We will have all the extra clerks we can use, and will wait on you all just the very best and quickest we can. WHO MAY PRAY AND WHO MAY NOT

Prayer Is Not a Duty, but an
Inestimable Privilege, Says
Pastor Russell.

Sinners May Approach Him Only In
the Appointed Way—"No Man Cometh Unto the Father but by Me." Formalistic
Prayer—Valueless—Public Prayer—Private Prayer—Family Prayer—Prayers Which Never Ascend to God—Rejected Prayers—Prayers of Praise and Thanksgiving—In-cense Before God—The Prayers of the Saints Are Limited.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Springfield, Mass., July 13.—Today opens an eight day Convention of the INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION. The attendance is large. Pastor Russell was one of the speakers today. We report his discourse on Prayer, from the text, "Mine House shall be called a House of Prayer for all people"—Isaiah 56:7.

The Pastor said: These words applied to the Jewish Temple, which in turn was typical of the Spiritual Temple of the future. The antitypical Temple has not yet been built. St. Peter describes it as the Church in glory, whose chief Corner Stone is Christ, and whose living stones are the saints of God, now being chiseled and polished for places in that Temple.

As the stones of Solomon's Temple were all completed before the construction was begun, so the Church of Christ will be constructed at the end of this Age, after all the "living stones" shall have been fitted for glory. This will be accomplished by the power of the First Resurrection—"changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye," for "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God."

As in the type, so the finished antitypical structure will be followed by Divine recognition. The Temple will be filled with the glory of the Lord, and thus marked as His dwelling place forever. Thus will be established—very soon, we trust—God's antitypical House of Prayer, wherein and where-by all mankind may come into fellowship with their Creator and have communion with Him through His appointed agencies.

Only Consecrated Priests Pray.
When I refer to consecrated priests, said Pastor Russell, do not misunderstand me to mean the clergy of any or all denominations. The Bible recognizes no clerical class, but declares, "All ye are brethren. One is your Master, even Christ." (Matthew 23:8). For eighteen centuries God's work in the world has been to call out a Royal Priesthood class. Jesus, their High Priest, was first called to suffering and then to glory; and His footstep followers have done the same. Through this Royal Priesthood the world will, in the future, have access to God.

Wrong Views Respecting Prayer.
Pastor Russell then showed conclusively that nearly all have discerned the subject of prayer very indistinctly. Sinners have been urged to pray; moralists, who have never accepted Christ as their Savior, have been chided for not praying. The impression has been given that God is very anxious to be approached by anybody at any time. This the Pastor declares is a mistake.

As no one would think of rushing informally into the presence of an earthly potentate, so none should expect to enter the Divine Presence without preparation, and to ask Heavenly favors with selfishness more or less filling the heart.

God has a special arrangement whereby His consecrated people may approach Him. "We [the Royal Priesthood] have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous," writes the Apostle John. But before the Redeemer will become Advocate for any, certain terms must be complied with. He serves only those who become His disciples. None others have any assurance whatever of Divine supervision of their affairs, or any authority for coming to God in prayer.

The Pastor stated one exception to this Divine rule. The children of consecrated parents have a standing before God through their relationship to their parents. But this standing manifestly terminates shortly after the child reaches a personal knowledge of its responsibilities. Thereupon it must make a personal covenant with the Lord, or else have its standing with the remainder of the world.

That standing, the Pastor reminded his hearers, does not mean liability to everlasting torment. It means alienation from God and His special provisions in the present time; for the Divine arrangement is for the ultimate blessing of Adam and all of his posterity through the Messianic Kingdom.

The Pastor concluded by declaring that the truth on this subject may bring many indifferent ones to the point of decision and thus greatly benefit them. He believes that many Christians are asleep, and should be awakened to realize that they are trifling with the Gospel call. Such may awake to find themselves forever outside the High Calling and the privileges of the Church.

SING SING TO BE ABOLISHED.

Grand Jury Finds That Prison Is Not
Sanitary—Warden Dismissed.
Sing Sing, the New York state prison, is doomed. A grand jury that recently investigated conditions there discovered that it was "unfit for beasts," and the governor of the state is making preparations to provide a new and up to date institution for the detention of prisoners.

In the presentment returned by the grand jury which probed conditions it was stated that the institution was horribly overcrowded. There are about 1,200 cells, intended to house one prisoner each, but at various times there have been as many as 2,000 prisoners in the prison. The grand jury also found that diseased and healthy men bunk together. There is only one quarter of the statutory air space for men doubled in a cell. It is also stated that the walls of the prison are damp, and this breeds disease. Vermin abound, said the report. There is only one hospital for all maladies.

Acting immediately on the grand jury's report, Governor Sulzer named a commission to find a suitable site for the location of a successor of the prison.

As a result of the investigation conducted by the grand jury, Warden John S. Kennedy was immediately removed from office by the superintendent of prisons. His dismissal, however, was ordered by Governor Sulzer.

MRS. STETSON WRITES BOOK
Claims Her Views Should Be Adopted
by Christian Science Church.

Portraying herself as the true teacher of Christian Science, the spiritual head of the church as opposed to the directors of the Mother Church, Mrs. August E. Stetson, who was excommunicated from the Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston in 1910, has written a new book entitled "Reminiscences, Sermons and Correspondence." She clearly shows in her recent work that she regards herself as the person to whom Mrs. Eddy intended the real authority of the church should descend—not as the head of the church in the sense that Mrs. Eddy was and is but in the sense that her interpretation of Christian Science should be accepted rather than the views of Mother Church directors. This is further substantiated by assertions of friends of Mrs. Stetson.

MRS. AUGUSTA E. STETSON.

Mrs. Stetson's book, containing 1,200 pages, has many things that are taken by the followers to prove that she has the correct understanding of Mrs. Eddy's doctrines as opposed to the directors of the Boston church, and therefore she should be at the helm of the Mother Church. They believe that she should be directing its affairs and interpreting to the scientists the meaning of Mrs. Eddy's textbook.

Whether Mrs. Stetson's stand will result in a split in the Christian Science church or simply be regarded as the pretension of an outsider remains to be seen.

Ovid and Aviation.
If the aviators of today wish for a classical motto, what better can they take than this passage from Ovid's "Ars Amatoria," 2, 45:

Aerias hominem capere posse vias?
which means, "Who would believe that man will ever be able to take aerial paths?"—Youth's Companion.

THE LEPROSY OF SIN A SAVIOR NEEDED

"Every Unrighteousness Is Sin"—"There Is None Righteous, No, Not One."

Open Sins—Secret Sins—Hypocrisies.
False Accusers—What God Approves.
What God Hates—The Wiles of the Adversary—The Redeemer Soon to Be the Good Physician—Ten Lepers Cleansed—Only One Appreciative.

PASTOR RUSSELL

St. Paul, Minn., June 29.—Pastor Russell spoke here this afternoon, and in Minneapolis this evening. The announcement of his coming is always sufficient to draw a crowd. We report one of his addresses, on the text, "Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine? Only one hath returned to give glory to God."—Luke 17:17, 18.

Leprosy, said the Pastor, has long been regarded as incurable, and therefore used as an illustration of sin, which also is incurable. As only the Master's word could heal leprosy, so only a Divine remedy can cure sin. In olden times lepers were required to separate themselves from others, and whenever approached to cry, "Unclean!" So sinners by Divine decree are isolated from the pure, the holy.

The Pastor then reminded his hearers that humanity constitutes but a small proportion of God's great family, amongst whom are angels, cherubim, seraphim, etc., who always have fellowship with God and with each other. But while the Scriptures declare that mankind are sinners by heredity, all do not appreciate their condition, nor cry aloud, Unclean! God wishes each to realize that he comes short of the Divine standard of perfection—of what God would bless with everlasting life.

While the Bible declares that all are sinners, yet it does not unreasonably say there is no difference. It does say, however, that the slightest degree of sin means that we are sinners; and that the person with the least taint would need the Savior—need to be cleansed. Each must see his sin and cry, Unclean! Lord, save, or I perish!

Many of us, said the Pastor, when reading our Bibles forgot that perish means to die, to lose life. Nothing in the word signifies to be tortured to all eternity. "The wages of sin is death," destruction—annihilation, if you please. Had God not made provision for man's recovery, there would have been no future life for the race. Death would have been as hopeless a state as leprosy is a hopeless disease, from which there is no recovery.

Jesus the Good Physician.

Jesus alone can cure this leprosy of sin. God has so arranged the matter. As the penalty of sin upon mankind means death, so whoever would redeem Adam's race must be prepared to pay his penalty before he could be assisted legally, justly. None of Adam's race could serve as a redeemer, because all were born in sin, and therefore as subject to the penalty as Adam himself. Nor could any be born sinless, because the life of the race came from Adam.

Whoever would redeem mankind must have a life separate from that of Adam, and be willing to sacrifice it on Adam's behalf. Any of the angels could have become man's redeemer, had God made them the proposition, and any had chosen to accept it. But He gave the first opportunity to the very highest of His creatures, His Only Begotten Son—the Logos, of whom it is written that He was the Beginning of the creation of God, the First-born of every creature.

Pastor Russell then showed conclusively that not even Jehovah Himself could demand that one holy creature should die to redeem humanity; and that if the Logos had chosen not to accept the Father's proposition, it doubtless would have been extended to others. But such was the Son's love and loyalty that to know God's will was to further it cheerfully. St. Paul explains that the Redeemer's faithfulness and loyalty in doing God's will to the extent of laying down the human life became the basis of His still higher exaltation—above His prehuman condition. Thus Jesus has been qualified to be made a Prince and a Savior, able to grant forgiveness to all who come unto the Father through Him.

What Sin-Forgiveness Means.

Forgiveness of sins has two aspects: (1) the cancellation of the legal condemnation; and (2) the recovery of the sinner from his degradation. Jesus came into the world to accomplish both these results. By His death He could legally satisfy Divine justice, giving His life as instead of Adam's forfeited life. Then, raised from the dead, with plenitude of power, He would use that power for the recovery of mankind from the mental, moral and physical degradation brought about by sin.

The Pastor then showed two classes of sinners saved. The mass of mankind will need the severe lessons of Messiah's Kingdom to show how obedience to God will bring a gradual recovery from sin and death back to perfection. The other class is the Church of the Gospel Age. His text well illustrates these two classes of sinners.

Discretion.

"Now, Mike, you must forgive your enemies."
"Ugh!"
"Do you object to that?"
"Not altogether. There's some of 'em I might as well forgive. I ain't big enough to lick 'em."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Usual Way.
Dorcas—Won't your meeting be very late if all the members are going to take part in the debate? Mrs. Dorcas—Why, no, dear! We'll all speak at once.—Judge.

LEWIS' WHISKERS DOOMED?

Illinois Senator Contemplates Shaving
Off His Pink Beard.

United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois is tired of being called the man with the pink whiskers. He wants the people of Washington and the United States to see more in him than a glowing beard. When asked if it were true that he was on the eve of parting with his pink whiskers Mr. Lewis said:

"The boys have seen me fighting along here for a good many years trying to make good. I believe that I have just a little something more in me than some of—shall I say my eccentricities, which get all the attention? I'd like to be treated in a dignified manner once in awhile."

But he didn't answer the question. Mr. Lewis is one of the real delights of Washington. He is pointed out as the "elegant whip of the senate," the "man with the pink whiskers" and the "most affable man in congress" by the guides who show strangers around the United States capitol.

The rumor that he contemplated removing his whiskers caused a mild sensation not only in Washington, but also throughout the state of Illinois, where he is personally known to thousands of people.

SUCCESSFUL WATERPLANE.

Oscar S. Straus Makes Flight With
A. Villas, Wealthy Enthusiast.

L. A. Villas, a wealthy aero enthusiast, who has taken up aeronautics as a sport, recently made several successful flights over Pelham bay, near New York city. His waterplane was built by Glenn H. Curtis and is somewhat similar in type to those which have been used in the United States navy in the past year. The craft is forty feet wide and twenty-six feet long and is equipped with a hundred horsepower motor, which is capable of driving the machine at a rate of fifty-five miles an hour in the water and sixty-five miles in the air.

The machine differs in many respects from aeroplanes, hydroplanes and hydroaeroplanes. As far as furnishings are concerned, the flying boat is quite luxurious. It is solidly built, and rich leather cushions have been provided for passenger and driver. The propeller and steering gear are of polished mahogany, and the fittings are nickel plated. An effort has been made to make it as comfortable as a Pullman car, Mr. Villas explained.

Oscar S. Straus, millionaire philanthropist, who was a candidate for governor of New York state on the Progressive ticket at the last election, was the first passenger to accompany Mr. Villas on one of his flights. The trip was about ten minutes in duration, and in consideration of his passenger Mr. Villas did not rise more than fifty feet above the water.

Still He Had It.

A certain physician told some of his patients that as long as they kept their feet and legs dry they would be safe from an attack of the grip. One day he was surprised to receive a letter from a patient in which the latter said that he had two wooden legs and yet he had had the grip for five consecutive years.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Explaining It.

Jones (just introduced)—I suppose you don't remember me, but I was once a witness against your side in a certain trial, and I remember that you cross examined me with the greatest courtesy. The Lawyer—Is that so? Perhaps your testimony was not material.—Puck.

OUR FEARLESS SAILORS.

An Incident of the Old Days Off the
Cape of Good Hope.

American vessels in those days (1833) surpassed the sailing records of ships of every other nation. Once when down nearly to the latitude of the Cape of Good Hope we encountered the most severe gale of our outward bound voyage. A mountainous sea was heaving in from the south, and the wind, which had originally come from that direction, was now blowing directly from the west with hurricane force. High as the Washington stood above the water, occasional crests would sweep her main deck and she steered so hard that I had to keep two men continually at the wheel and have them relieved every half hour.

The wind, however, was fair, and therefore every man on the ship, from Captain L. to the cook's boy, would have felt disgraced had the order been given to heave the ship to. Under double reefed topsails and fore course she was logging upward of sixteen knots, and all hands were as pleased as if they had just been granted a week's shore leave at New York.

Later in the day, when the wind had moderated somewhat, we sighted a large British bark hove to under short canvas. She was flying distress signals, so Captain L. ordered the wheel put up and ran down to have a look at her. As soon as our signals could be clearly seen he asked what she wanted, and the bark replied with a request to stand by. Captain L. then ran up flags demanding if the bark were injured or anything wrong on board. The Britisher replied again, "Stand by. Do not like look of weather."

When the second mate read the meaning of this signal out of the code book a great laugh went up in our cabin, and Captain L. replied with flags reading, "See nothing wrong in this weather," and hoisted the American ensign above the signal in order to give point to his remark. No doubt the British captain said, "Another of those crazy Yankees" when he read our flags, but we were in Batavia a week before he appeared.—From "The Journal of Captain Nathaniel Webber" in Outing.

AN ANECDOTE OF M'KINLEY.

His Gentle Rebuke to a Department
Chief's Subordinate.

President McKinley's scrupulous loyalty to his cabinet officers is spoken of as one of his characteristics. It is said that he never went over the heads of his secretaries to consult an assistant, but held each to responsibility for his department.

Of all the events of his administration probably none was a source of more anxiety to him than the decision of the supreme court on the status of the colonies. It was a matter of great moment whether the highest judicial body should uphold the view of the administration that the constitution sanctioned the possession of colonies which were not granted full representation. There were conflicting rumors and forecasts of the color of the decision, and these added to the tension felt at Washington. Shortly before the announcement of the finding of the court a subordinate officer of one of the departments appeared at the White House at an unusual hour and insisted upon seeing the president on the plea of important business. Having been admitted, he came at once to his errand.

"Mr. President, I have some good news for you. I have just learned authoritatively that the decision of the supreme court is to be in your favor." He fairly glowed with the importance of his welcome message.

"Thank you," said Mr. McKinley quietly. "That is good news. But have you informed your chief?"

"No, Mr. President. I thought you ought to be the first to know it."

"Well, Mr. —, I'm sorry for that. Now, will you please do me the favor to go at once to your chief and give him the information so that he may communicate it to me?"—Silas Harrison in Century.

WHO MAY PRAY AND WHO MAY NOT

Prayer Is Not a Duty, but an
Inestimable Privilege, Says
Pastor Russell.

Sinners May Approach Him Only In
the Appointed Way—"No Man Cometh Unto the Father but by Me."
Formalistic Prayer Valueless—Public Prayer—Private Prayer—Family
Prayer—Prayers Which Never Ascend to God—Rejected Prayers—Prayers of Praise and Thanksgiving—Incense Before God—The Prayers of the Saints Are Limited.

Springfield, Mass., July 13.—
Today opens an eight day Convention of the INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION. The attendance is large. Pastor Russell was one of the speakers today.
We report his discourse on Prayer,
from the text.

"Mine House shall be called an House of Prayer for all people."—Isaiah 56:7.

The Pastor said: These words applied to the Jewish Temple, which in turn was typical of the Spiritual Temple of the future. The antitypical Temple has not yet been built. St. Peter describes it as the Church in glory, whose chief Corner Stone is Christ, and whose living stones are the saints of God, now being chiseled and polished
for places in that Temple.

As the stones of Solomon's Temple were all completed before the construction was begun, so the Church of Christ will be constructed at the end of this Age, after all the "living stones" shall have been fitted for glory. This will be accomplished by the power of the First Resurrection—"changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye"; for "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God."

As in the type, so the finished anti-typical structure will be followed by Divine recognition. The Temple will be filled with the glory of the Lord, and thus marked as His dwelling place forever. Thus will be established—very soon, we trust—God's antitypical House of Prayer, wherein and whereby all mankind may come into fellowship with their Creator and have communion with Him through His appointed agents.

Only Consecrated Priests Pray.

When I refer to consecrated priests,
said Pastor Russell, do not misunderstand me to mean the clergy of any or all denominations. The Bible recognizes no clerical class, but declares,
"All ye are brethren. One is your Master, even Christ." (Matthew 23:8). For eighteen centuries God's work in the world has been to call out a Royal Priesthood class. Jesus, their High Priest, was first called to suffering and then to glory; and His footstep followers have done the same. Through this Royal Priesthood the world will, in the future, have access to God.

Wrong Views Respecting Prayer.

Pastor Russell then showed conclusively that nearly all have discerned
the subject of prayer very indistinctly.
Sinners have been urged to pray; moralists, who have never accepted Christ as their Savior, have been chided for not praying. The impression has been given that God is very anxious to be approached by anybody at any time.
This the Pastor declares is a mistake.
As no one would think of rushing informally into the presence of an earthly potentate, so none should expect to enter the Divine Presence without preparation, and to ask Heavenly favors with selfishness more or less filling the heart.

God has a special arrangement whereby His consecrated people may approach Him. "We [the Royal Priesthood] have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous," writes the Apostle John. But before the Redeemer will become Advocate for any, certain terms must be complied with. He serves only those who become His disciples. None others have any assurance whatever of Divine supervision of their affairs, or any authority for coming to God in prayer.

The Pastor stated one exception to this Divine rule. The children of consecrated parents have a standing before God through their relationship to their parents. But this standing manifestly terminates shortly after the child reaches a personal knowledge of its responsibilities. Thereupon it must make a personal covenant with the Lord, or else have its standing with the remainder of the world.

That standing, the Pastor reminded his hearers, does not mean inability to everlasting torment. It means alienation from God and His special providences in the present time; for the Divine arrangement is for the ultimate blessing of Adam and all of his posterity through the Messianic Kingdom.

The Pastor concluded by declaring that the truth on this subject may bring many indifferent ones to the point of decision and thus greatly benefit them. He believes that many Christians are asleep, and should be awakened to realize that they are trifling with the Gospel call. Such may awake to find themselves forever outside the High Calling and the privileges of the Church.

SING SING TO BE ABOLISHED.

Grand Jury Finds That Prison Is Not
Sanitary—Warden Dismissed.

Sing Sing, the New York state prison, is doomed. A grand jury that recently investigated conditions there discovered that it was "unfit for beasts," and the governor of the state is making preparations to provide a new and up to date institution for the detention of prisoners.

In the presentment returned by the grand jury which probed conditions it was stated that the institution was horribly overcrowded. There are about 1,200 cells, intended to house one prisoner each, but at various times there have been as many as 2,000 prisoners in the prison. The grand jury also found that diseased and healthy men bunk together. There is only one quarter of the statutory air space for men doubled in a cell. It is also stated that the walls of the prison are damp, and this breeds disease. Vermin abound, said the report. There is only one hospital for all maladies.

Acting immediately on the grand jury's report, Governor Sulzer named a commission to find a suitable site for the location of a successor of the prison.

MRS. STETSON WRITES BOOK

Claims Her Views Should Be Adopted
by Christian Science Church.

Portraying herself as the true teacher of Christian Science, the spiritual head of the church as opposed to the directors of the Mother Church, Mrs.
Augusta E. Stetson, who was excommunicated from the Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston in 1910, has written a new book entitled "Reminiscences, Sermons and Correspondence." She clearly shows in her recent work that she regards herself as the person to whom Mrs. Eddy intended the real authority of the church should descend—not as the head of the church in the sense that Mrs. Eddy was and is, but in the sense that her interpreta-

MRS. AUGUSTA E. STETSON.

tion of Christian Science should be accepted rather than the views of Mother Church directors. This is further substantiated by assertions of friends of Mrs. Stetson.

Mrs. Stetson's book, containing 1,200 pages, has many things that are taken by the followers to prove that she has the correct understanding of Mrs. Eddy's doctrines as opposed to the directors of the Boston church, and therefore she should be at the helm of the Mother Church. They believe that she should be directing its affairs and interpreting to the scientists the meaning of Mrs. Eddy's textbook.

Whether Mrs. Stetson's stand will result in a split in the Christian Science church or simply be regarded as the pretension of an outsider remains to be seen.

PASTOR RUSSELL

St. Paul, Minn.,
June 23.—Pastor
Russell spoke here
this afternoon, and in Minneapolis this evening. The announcement of his coming is always sufficient to draw a crowd. We report one of his addresses, on the text, "Were there
not ten cleansed?
but where are the nine? Only one hath returned to give glory to God."—Luke 17:17, 18.

Leprosy, said the Pastor, has long been regarded as incurable, and therefore used as an illustration of sin, which also is incurable. As only the Master's word could heal leprosy, so only a Divine remedy can cure sin. In olden times lepers were required to separate themselves from others, and whenever approached to cry, "Unclean!"
So sinners by Divine decree are isolated from the pure, the holy.

The Pastor then reminded his hearers that humanity constitutes but a small proportion of God's great family, amongst whom are angels, cherubim,
seraphim, etc., who always have fellowship with God and with each other.
But while the Scriptures declare that mankind are sinners by heredity, all do not appreciate their condition, nor cry aloud, Unclean! God wishes each to realize that he comes short of the Divine standard of perfection—of what God would bless with everlasting life.

While the Bible declares that all are sinners, yet it does not unreasonably say there is no difference. It does say, however, that the slightest degree of sin means that we are sinners; and that the person with the least taint would need the Savior—need to be cleansed. Each must see his sin and cry, Unclean! Lord, save, or I perish!

Many of us, said the Pastor, when reading our Bibles forget that perish means to die, to lose life. Nothing in the word signifies to be tortured to all eternity. "The wages of sin is death," destruction—annihilation, if you please.
Had God not made provision for man's recovery, there would have been no future life for the race. Death would have been as hopeless a state as leprosy is a hopeless disease, from which there is no recovery.

Jesus the Good Physician.

Jesus alone can cure this leprosy of sin. God has so arranged the matter.
As the penalty of sin upon mankind means death, so whoever would redeem Adam's race must be prepared to pay his penalty before he could be assisted legally, justly. None of Adam's race could serve as a redeemer, because all were born in sin, and therefore as subject to the penalty as Adam himself. Nor could any be born sinless, because the life of the race came from Adam.

Whoever would redeem mankind must have a life separate from that of Adam, and be willing to sacrifice it on Adam's behalf. Any of the angels could have become man's redeemer, had God made them the proposition, and any had chosen to accept it. But He gave the first opportunity to the very highest of His creatures, His Only Begotten Son—the Logos, of whom it is written that He was the Beginning of the creation of God, the First-born of every creature.

Pastor Russell then showed conclusively that not even Jehovah Himself could demand that one holy creature should die to redeem humanity; and that if the Logos had chosen not to accept the Father's proposition, it doubtless would have been extended to others. But such was the Son's love and loyalty that to know God's will was to further it cheerfully. St. Paul explains that the Redeemer's faithfulness and loyalty in doing God's will to the extent of laying down the human life became the basis of His still higher exaltation—above His prehuman condition. Thus Jesus has been qualified to be made a Prince and a Savior, able to grant forgiveness to all who come unto the Father through Him.

What Sin-Forgiveness Means.

Forgiveness of sins has two aspects:
(1) the cancellation of the legal condemnation; and (2) the recovery of the sinner from his degradation. Jesus came into the world to accomplish both these results. By His death He could legally satisfy Divine Justice, giving His life as instead of Adam's forfeited life. Then, raised from the dead, with plenitude of power, He would use that power for the recovery of mankind from the mental, moral and physical degradation brought about by sin.

The Pastor then showed two classes of sinners saved. The mass of mankind will need the severe lessons of Messiah's Kingdom to show how obedience to God will bring a gradual recovery from sin and death back to perfection. The other class is the Church of the Gospel Age. His text well illustrates these two classes of sinners.

Discretion.

"Now, Mike, you must forgive your enemies."
"Ugh!"
"Do you object to that?"
"Not altogether. There's some of 'em
I might as well forgive. I ain't big enough to lick 'em."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

LEWIS' WHISKERS DOOMED?

Illinois Senator Contemplates Shaving
Off His Pink Beard.

United States Senator J. Hamilton
Lewis of Illinois is tired of being called the man with the pink whiskers. He wants the people of Washington and the United States to see more in him than a glowing beard. When asked if it were true that he was on the eve of parting with his pink whiskers Mr.
Lewis said:

"The boys have seen me fighting along here for a good many years trying to make good. I believe that I have just a little something more in me than some of—shall I say my eccentricities, which get all the attention? I'd like to be treated in a dignified manner once in awhile."

But he didn't answer the question.
Mr. Lewis is one of the real delights of Washington. He is pointed out as the "elegant whip of the senate," the "man with the pink whiskers" and the "most affable man in congress" by the guides who show strangers around the United States capitol.

The rumor that he contemplated removing his whiskers caused a mild sensation not only in Washington, but also throughout the state of Illinois, where he is personally known to thousands of people.

SUCCESSFUL WATERPLANE.

Oscar S. Straus Makes Flight With L.
A. Vilas, Wealthy Enthusiast.

L. A. Vilas, a wealthy aero enthusiast, who has taken up aeronautics
as a sport, recently made several successful flights over Pelham bay, near New York city. His waterplane was built by Glenn H. Curtis and is somewhat similar in type to those which have been used in the United States navy in the past year. The craft is forty feet wide and twenty-six feet long and is equipped with a hundred horsepower motor, which is capable of driving the machine at a rate of fifty-five miles an hour in the water and sixty-five miles in the air.

The machine differs in many respects from aeroplanes, hydroplanes and hydroaeroplanes. As far as furnishings are concerned, the flying boat is quite luxurious. It is solidly built, and rich leather cushions have been provided for passenger and driver. The propeller and steering gear are of polished mahogany, and the fittings are nickel plated. An effort has been made to make it as comfortable as a Pullman car, Mr. Vilas explained.

Oscar S. Straus, millionaire philanthropist, who was a candidate for governor of New York state on the Progressive ticket at the last election, was the first passenger to accompany Mr.
Vilas on one of his flights. The trip was about ten minutes in duration, and in consideration of his passenger
Mr. Vilas did not rise more than fifty feet above the water.

Still He Had It.

A certain physician told some of his patients that as long as they kept their feet and legs dry they would be safe from an attack of the grip. One day he was surprised to receive a letter from a patient in which the latter said that he had two wooden legs and yet he had had the grip for five consecutive years.—Philadelphia Ledger.

OUR FEARLESS SAILORS.

An Incident of the Old Days Off the
Cape of Good Hope.

American vessels in those days (1833)
surpassed the sailing records of ships of every other nation. Once when down nearly to the latitude of the Cape of Good Hope we encountered the most severe gale of our outward bound voyage. A mountainous sea was heaving in from the south, and the wind, which had originally come from that direction, was now blowing directly from the west with hurricane force. High as the Washington stood above the water, occasional crests would sweep her main deck and she steered so hard that I had to keep two men continually at the wheel and have them relieved every half hour.

The wind, however, was fair, and therefore every man on the ship, from Captain L. to the cook's boy, would have felt disgraced had the order been given to heave the ship to. Under double reefed topsails and fore course she was logging upward of sixteen knots, and all hands were as pleased as if they had just been granted a week's shore leave at New York.

Later in the day, when the wind had moderated somewhat, we sighted a large British bark hove to under short canvas. She was flying distress signals, so Captain L. ordered the wheel put up and ran down to have a look at her. As soon as our signals could be clearly seen he asked what she wanted, and the bark replied with a request to stand by. Captain L. then ran up flags demanding if the bark were injured or anything wrong on board. The Britisher replied again, "Stand by. Do not like look of weather."

When the second mate read the meaning of this signal out of the code book a great laugh went up in our cabin, and Captain L. replied with flags reading, "See nothing wrong in this weather," and hoisted the American ensign above the signal in order to give point to his remark. No doubt the British captain said, "Another of those crazy Yankees!" when he read our flags, but we were in Batavia a week before he appeared.—From "The Journal of Captain Nathaniel Webber" in Outing.

AN ANECDOTE OF M'KINLEY.

His Gentle Rebuke to a Department
Chief's Subordinate.

President McKinley's scrupulous loyalty to his cabinet officers is spoken of as one of his characteristics. It is said that he never went over the heads of his secretaries to consult an assistant,
but held each to responsibility for his department.

Of all the events of his administration probably none was a source of more anxiety to him than the decision of the supreme court on the status of the colonies. It was a matter of great moment whether the highest judicial body should uphold the view of the administration that the constitution sanctioned the possession of colonies which were not granted full representation. There were conflicting rumors and forecasts of the color of the decision, and these added to the tension felt at Washington. Shortly before the announcement of the finding of the court a subordinate officer of one of the departments appeared at the White House at an unusual hour and insisted upon seeing the president on the plea of important business. Having been admitted, he came at once to his errand.

"Mr. President, I have some good news for you. I have just learned authoritatively that the decision of the supreme court is to be in your favor."
He fairly glowed with the importance of his welcome message.

"Thank you," said Mr. McKinley quietly. "That is good news. But have you informed your chief?"

"No, Mr. President. I thought you ought to be the first to know it."

"Well, Mr. —, I'm sorry for that.
Now, will you please do me the favor to go at once to your chief and give him the information so that he may communicate it to me?"—Silas Harrison in Century.

Division Town Threatens to Spring a Big Surprise on Brainerd in Game July 20

STAPLES SHUTOUT RECORD GOOD

List of Victories to Date—Regular Pitcher is the Well Known Bungo Towers

Brainerd plays Staples next Sunday, July 20. Staples has a long string of victories to its credit and has achieved a reputation as a team which has gained a large number of shutouts over its opponents.

Staples beat Henning 4 to 0; Wadena 5 to 0; Crosby 5 to 0; Long Prairie 3 to 0. The scalps of Vernal, Perham and other towns hang at their belts. Their regular pitcher is Bungo Towers.

It is rumored that Staples contemplates pulling off a big surprise on Brainerd—nothing less than the importation of a great pitcher for the Sunday game. Some even hint that the erratic Rube Waddell may be secured from Virginia for the purpose of humiliating Brainerd with a shutout. This is but one of the many reports received.

Waddell is the pitcher who has often signalled the outfield to come in while he struck out two or three men.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Carner of Bottineau, N. D. The wedding gown was of embroidered net over china silk. Mr. Brown is employed as pipe fitter in the Northern Pacific shops, and the young people will make this city their home. Their many friends wish them a joyous voyage through life.

M. T. Dunn, president of the Citizens State bank, has been asked to attend the meeting of the Minneapolis Clearing House association to be held July 17 at the Hotel Radisson when Minneapolis and Northwest bankers will discuss at a one o'clock luncheon the new currency bill now before Congress.

It was the thought of the Minneapolis bankers, said the secretary, Perry Harrison, that such a meeting would be productive of good and that all would be in a better position to present to representatives in Congress such suggestions as will enable them to give the country such changes in the banking laws as would be most beneficial.

NEW MOVING PICTURE SHOW

To Occupy the J. M. Hayes Building, Corner South Sixth and Laurel Streets

EDWIN HARRIS BERGH, LESSEE

Minneapolis Man to Occupy Ground Floor of New Structure, Offices on Second Floor

J. M. Hayes has shown his public spirit and his faith in Brainerd by his decision to build a modern, two-story brick block on the southeast corner of South Sixth and Laurel streets, construction to begin within a short time. The ground plan of the building was submitted to the council at Monday evening's session and was unanimously approved by that body. The front is to be of pressed brick.

Edwin Harris Bergh

Edwin Harris Bergh, of Minneapolis, has signed an eight year lease of the ground floor and, if Mr. Hayes ultimately decides to build, Mr. Bergh will install a picture show. The building will be on the first floor and offices on the second floor.

The theatre is planned to seat 400. The moving picture show will feature a popular line of film pictures and illustrated songs. A four piece orchestra will furnish the music. The front of the show will be on Laurel street and, as stated by Mr. Bergh, will be illuminated by 1,000 electric lights. It is also expected to have an electric sign on Sixth street. Particular care will be paid to the ventilation of the theatre.

Mr. Bergh is a violinist and expects to start a conservatory of music where violin, piano and vocal instruction will be given. He is married and has removed to Brainerd with his family and is awaiting Mr. Hayes' ultimate decision in the matter of building.

THE GAS PLANT

If Built by American Gas Construction Co., Represents an Investment of $80,000

J. P. Smith, of Newton, Iowa, in speaking of the gas franchise which he was endeavoring to secure, said that if he was successful the American Gas Construction Co. would erect in Brainerd a plant representing an investment of $80,000.

The mains, as planned in the map given the city council, would be 13 miles in extent. The gas mains would not have to be laid at a great depth, say about 2 1/2 feet and their laying would not damage streets or alleys. The gas can be used for heating, lighting, power, vulcanizing, etc.

The price made Brainerd is $1.40 net for 1,000 cubic feet. Brainerd would enjoy a rate much lower than Crookston which pays $1.65 for a thousand cubic feet.

The council has appointed a special committee on the gas franchise and they are endeavoring to secure the services of Charles I. Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, an expert engineer, to assist them in their deliberations and to examine any franchises submitted.

BEMIDJI GETS NORMAL

Our Up Country Neighbor Wins in the Contest For Location of Sixth State Normal

Bemidji has won a fight that she should be proud of and as a consequence the sixth normal school will be located in that city, and justly so. The decision was made on Tuesday by the special commission appointed by the legislature to make a choice. The commission was in session behind closed doors at the capitol for three hours and nothing was given out as to the vote. The people of Bemidji are to deed the state at least twenty acres of land, as required by law. The erection of normal school buildings at Bemidji will be delayed until the legislature makes an appropriation.

This is the season of the year when Uncle Sam's employees in the postal service take advantage of the fifteen days leave with pay allowed them and at the present time several of the regular employees at the local office are enjoying their leave as follows:

Carl Brockway is spending a few days at Fargo with his family where they are visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Brockway is the mounted carrier.

Letter Carrier J. J. Nolan is enjoying an outing with his family at Gull lake.

W. A. Spencer, superintendent of the postal savings department, is at his summer home at Long Lake south with his family and a party of friends.

Clarence Stickney is attending a meeting of the postal clerks' association at Red Wing and will go from there to Lake City where Mrs. Stickney is visiting.

Mrs. George W. Grewcock, wife of the assistant postmaster, left yesterday for Glendive, Montana, for an extended visit with her parents and friends.

Ray Hall and Albert England, substitute carriers, are taking the places of the two letter carriers absent on leave.

Miss Marion Phelps, substitute clerk, is on duty at the postoffice during the absence of Mr. Stickney.

Louis Imgrund has been appointed special delivery messenger.

Mrs. Christine Sandberg, charwoman at the federal building, is enjoying an annual leave of fifteen days.

J. W. Miller, the St. Paul contractor, who built the Brainerd federal building, has been awarded the contract to erect the new postoffice building at Moorhead, his bid being $61,199.

Little Falls Transcript Says Umpire Kunitz Robbed Them of Monday Evening's Game

THEY ROAR WHEN DEFEATED

Stoop to Depths of Attacking a Man's Business When he Umpires a Game

True sportsmanship shows itself in defeat as well as in victory and nowhere more so than when a team is defeated in a clean, honest game such as Brainerd, the victors, put up in their contest with Little Falls at the local grounds Monday evening.

Brainerd fairly and squarely defeated Little Falls by a 6 to 3 score. But the sting of defeat rankled in the bosoms of the Little Falls men presumably to the extent to give expression to the following heading in the Little Falls Transcript and excerpts of the article are herewith presented.

"Umpire Robbed Blues of Game," "Brainerd Took Contest by Score of 6 to 3—Little Falls Will Not Play Up-River Pirates Again," read the headlines. Then comes this line of stuff which contains allusions not allowable in any branch of clean sport and resembles, in a way, some of the choice rooting hurled at the Brainerd team when it played in Little Falls last game. Walter Kunitz, who umpired fairly well and gave Little Falls the best of a close decision on the plate, is handed this choice line of abuse:

"Poor old Jesse James, he has long been famous as America's leading bandit but W. Kunitz, a salesman with headquarters at Brainerd, is after the notoriety and there seems to be no reason why he should not get it. Kunitz grabbed a ball game and ran Monday night which is more than Jesse ever did, even in his palm-est days.

Brainerd is credited with a victory by a score of 6 to 3. But Brainerd did not win the game, they simply took it. With Kunitz behind the plate strikes were balls, fouls were fair and vice versa. And with Kunitz umpiring the bases he made the most of his opportunities although they were not as frequent as when behind the bat. It is said that the cookie salesman lost $7 on Sunday's game and his work would indicate that he had a bet on the game he umpired. After he had taken the game Kunitz became panic stricken for fear the Little Falls clouters would take it back in spite of him and with an hour of daylight left and only five and a half innings played called the game for darkness and disappeared in the crowd. The game was called at 7:35 while a game here recently lasted until 8:37.

Kunitz did not ride the cash drawer of much as the receipts amounted to only about $75. After the game Manager Tom Considine of the Brainerd club was notified that baseball relations between the two cities are over. He pleaded that he was not responsible for the umpire's work but the Little Falls manager who was present took the stand that Considine was present all during the game and could have stopped the rotten work. Little Falls had a bad inning in the third. Errors and several scratch infield hits gave Brainerd five runs. A square deal on balls and strikes would have changed the record of the inning.

At that Brainerd might have won the game with a fair umpire and Little Falls would have been satisfied with three out of five from Brainerd but to have the game deliberately stolen riled up the fans and the players."

This abuse would have satisfied any ordinary Little Falls fan and would tend, in his eyes, to set his defeated team on a pedestal of fame, but it remained for The Transcript to publish an attack on a man's business. That is going away beyond anything ever contemplated in true sportsmanship. Here is the stuff, headlines and all:

"Kunitz in City

Walter Kunitz, the umpire who handed Brainerd the victory in Monday's game, was in the city Tuesday calling on his trade. He represents the National Biscuit company. He found the merchants all holding orders for him—not."

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Elmer R. Hetting Factory Inspector of the St. Paul District—Duties Begin August 1

Elmer R. Hetting, who recently took the competitive examination at St. Paul and stood very high in his averages, has received the appointment of factory inspector in the St. Paul district and commences his duties August 1.

Mr. Hetting has been a machinist for years and is well liked by his employers and associates. He has been with the Brainerd City band several seasons, being its business manager. Mr. and Mrs. Hetting enjoy the friendship of many Brainerd people who will miss their going to St. Paul. He is receiving congratulations on his appointment and his friends are assured he will fill the office in a capable manner.

Minogue-Wilder

A very pretty and pleasing ceremony was solemnized at St. Francis Catholic church this morning when Margaret Minogue of this city, and Charles J. Wilder of Minneapolis, were united in marriage, the Rev. J. J. O'Mahoney officiating, assisted by the Rev. Father Crean and Patrick O'Mahoney.

Promptly at 9 A. M. the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn, led by little Alice O'Brien, ring bearer, carrying the ring in the heart of a lily. The bride was charming in a gown of white embroidered voile over messaline and a white panama hat trimmed with soft French feathers. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. She was attended by Miss Mabel O'Brien as maid of honor, gowned in white voile, trimmed with Irish lace, wearing a white tulle picture hat and carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The groom was attended by Mr. William Burns, both garbed in conventional black. John Krekelberg and Fritz Koop acted as ushers. Billy Vernon rendered "Beloved 'Tis Morn'" during the ceremony, with Miss Patti Hamelin at the pipe organ.

The church was simply and tastily decorated with wood vine and ferns. A bounteous wedding breakfast was served at 11 o'clock to the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Con O'Brien.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Con O'Brien and has made her home with Mrs. O'Brien for several years, during which time she has made a host of friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilder of Minneapolis and is a rising young business man of that city.

Many and beautiful gifts were received by the young couple showing the esteem in which they are held. The happy couple left on the 2:30 train for Duluth and various Wisconsin points and will be at home to their friends after August first at 310 9th avenue N. E., Minneapolis.

The out of town guests were Misses Agnes and Grace Wilder of Minneapolis.

BRAINERD PLAYS STAPLES SUNDAY

Division Town Threatens to Spring a Big Surprise on Brainerd in Game July 20

STAPLES SHUTOUT RECORD GOOD

List of Victories to Date—Regular Pitcher is the Well Known Bungo Towers

Brainerd plays Staples next Sunday, July 20. Staples has a long string of victories to its credit and has achieved a reputation as a team which has gained a large number of shutouts over its opponents.

Staples beat Henning 4 to 0; Wadena 5 to 0; Crosby 5 to 0; Long Prairie 3 to 0. The scalps of Verdale, Perham and other towns hang at their belts. Their regular pitcher is Bungo Towers.

It is rumored that Staples contemplates pulling off a big surprise on Brainerd—nothing less than the importation of a great pitcher for the Sunday game. Some even hint that the erratic Rube Waddell may be secured from Virginia for the purpose of humiliating Brainerd with a shutout. This is but one of the many reports received.

Waddell is the pitcher who has often signalled the outfield to come in while he struck out two or three men.

APPRAISING STATE LANDS

A Duluthian and Two Brainerd Men are Doing This Work in Crow Wing County

Andrew Miles, of Duluth, and N. B. Chase and S. L. Staples, of Brainerd, are engaged in the appraising of the state lands situated in Crow Wing county. The work will consume all of two week's time.

Brown-Carner

A pretty home wedding occurred at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal Church last evening when George H. Brown and Miss Goldie Carner were united in marriage by the minister, Rev. Elbert E. Satterlee. The contracting parties were accompanied by their friends Mr. Louis Everest and Miss Mollie Knutson who acted as best man and bridesmaid. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Carner of Bottineau, N. D. The wedding gown was of embroidered net over china silk. Mr. Brown is employed as pipe fitter in the Northern Pacific shops, and the young people will make this city their home. Their many friends wish them a joyous voyage through life.

BRAINERD GETS MEETING

Minnesota Association of Post Office Clerks Select This City for Next Annual Meeting

The Minnesota association of Post office clerks in session at Red Wing yesterday selected Brainerd for their annual meeting place in 1914. Clarence B. Stickney, mailing clerk in the local office has been in attendance at the meeting as the representative of the Brainerd branch of the organization. The meeting will bring to this city a large number of representative men from all sections of the state as well as a representative of the postoffice department at Washington. The Red Wing session has been a very successful meeting. The date of the next annual meeting will be announced later.

Suggestions to be Made to Congressmen of the District Regarding Banking Law Changes

M. T. Dunn, president of the Citizens State bank, has been asked to attend the meeting of the Minneapolis Clearing House association to be held July 17 at the Hotel Radisson when Minneapolis and Northwest bankers will discuss at a one o'clock luncheon the new currency bill now before Congress.

It was the thought of the Minneapolis bankers, said the secretary, Perry Harrison, that such a meeting would be productive of good and that all would be in a better position to present to representatives in Congress such suggestions as will enable them to give the country such changes in the banking laws as would be most beneficial.

NEW MOVING PICTURE SHOW

To Occupy the J. M. Hayes Building, Corner South Sixth and Laurel Streets

EDWIN HARRIS BERGH, LESSEE

Minneapolis Man to Occupy Ground Floor of New Structure, Offices on Second Floor

J. M. Hayes has shown his public spirit and his faith in Brainerd by his decision to build a modern, two-story brick block on the southeast corner of South Sixth and Laurel streets, construction to begin within a short time. The ground plan of the building was submitted to the council at Monday evening's session and was unanimously approved by that body. The front is to be of pressed brick.

Edwin Harris Bergh

Edwin Harris Bergh, of Minneapolis, has signed an eight year lease of the ground floor and, if Mr. Hayes ultimately decides to build, Mr. Bergh will install a picture show. The building will be on the first floor and offices on the second floor.

The theatre is planned to seat 400. The moving picture show will feature a popular line of film pictures and illustrated songs. A four piece orchestra will furnish the music. The front of the show will be on Laurel street and, as stated by Mr. Bergh, will be illuminated by 1,000 electric lights. It is also expected to have an electric sign on Sixth street. Particular care will be paid to the ventilation of the theatre.

Mr. Bergh is a violinist and expects to start a conservatory of music where violin, piano and vocal instruction will be given. He is married and has removed to Brainerd with his family and is awaiting Mr. Hayes' ultimate decision in the matter of building.

THE GAS PLANT

If Built by American Gas Construction Co., Represents an Investment of $80,000

J. P. Smith, of Newton, Iowa, in speaking of the gas franchise which he was endeavoring to secure, said that if he was successful the American Gas Construction Co. would erect in Brainerd a plant representing an investment of $80,000.

The mains, as planned in the map given the city council, would be 13 miles in extent. The gas mains would not have to be laid at a great depth, say about 2 1/2 feet and their laying would not damage streets or alleys. The gas can be used for heating, lighting, power, vulcanizing, etc.

The price made Brainerd is $1.40 net for 1,000 cubic feet. Brainerd would enjoy a rate much lower than Crookston which pays $1.65 for a thousand cubic feet.

The council has appointed a special committee on the gas franchise and they are endeavoring to secure the services of Charles I. Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, an expert engineer, to assist them in their deliberations and to examine any franchises submitted.

SELLS PRINTING BUSINESS

George J. Silk, of Pine River, Disposes of "The Quality Printing" to Waconia Man

George J. Silk, editor of the Pine River Sentinel, has sold the "Quality Printing" to C. A. Reil, of Waconia, who will take charge of the plant not later than July 21. Mr. Reil comes well recommended as a good printer and newspaper man.

Mr. Silk has no definite plans for himself at the time, although he has under consideration several propositions. After eight years of hustling he thinks he is justly entitled to a short vacation. He will stay for some months to look after Cass county's exhibit at the state fair, of which he has had charge for several years and which has carried away several prizes. He is secretary of the Cass County Agricultural fair, whose eighth annual fair will be held in Pine River on October 1, 2 and 3, and he expects to look after its interests and do his share in making it the usual success before taking his departure from the town which he has diligently boosted so long.

Mr. and Mrs. Silk expect to take a trip to the coast in the fall for a visit with old friends.

ANSWER THE CALL

Brainerd People Have Found That This is Necessary

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench. A little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spills of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A splendid remedy for such attacks. A medicine that has satisfied thousands.

Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a special kidney remedy. Many Brainerd people rely on it. Here is Brainerd proof.

Mrs. Alfred Towers, 416 First Ave., Brainerd, Minn., says: "Our experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been very satisfactory. Six years ago we first used the remedy and at that time it did such good work that we publicly endorsed it. Since then we have taken Doan's Kidney Pills when suffering from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint and we have never failed to get relief. Our former statement still holds good."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Application for Liquor License

To the Council of the City of Brainerd, Minnesota:

The undersigned, Joseph Hill, hereby makes application for a license to sell intoxicating liquors, at, upon, and in the room and premises described as follows, to-wit: No. 506 Front street, on the ground floor, in the City of Brainerd, from August 6th, 1913, until August 6th, 1914.
Dated July 7th, 1913.
(Signed) JOSEPH HILL.

Said applicant has been licensed to sell intoxicating liquors in the City of Brainerd, Minn., from August 6th, 1912, to August 6th, 1913.

Notice is hereby given that a hearing on the above application will be had on August 4th, 1913, at 8:00 o'clock p. m. at the regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Brainerd.

Dated July 7th, 1913.

City Clerk.

When "Thirteen" Was Lucky.

The luckiness of thirteen may be said to have been exemplified in the American War of Independence, when thirteen colonies revolted and formed the United States. A London newspaper of 1776 asserted that the rebels considered the number lucky and attributed to a party of returned naval prisoners the statement that "thirteen dried clams were a rebel's daily ration; that Washington had thirteen toes and thirteen teeth in each jaw; that the regular rebel family comprised thirteen children, each expecting to become a general at the age of thirteen, and that thirteen American paper dollars were worth one penny sterling."

A Failure.

Mrs. Hoyle—How did your husband get along running the ranch while you were away? Mrs. Doyle—Well, I don't think he will advertise for a position as housekeeper on the strength of the record he made.—Judge.

SEALED BIDS

For laying of approximately 4000 feet, more or less, of 4 inch cast iron water mains in the City of Brainerd, Minn., according to specifications on file in the office of the Water & Light Board, No. 704 Laurel Street, will be received by the undersigned up to 6:00 o'clock P. M., July 15th, 1913. City to furnish all pipes and fittings.
